I am a software engineer and developer with proficiency in different programming languages, libraries and frameworks. I am a detail-oriented problem solver, who is passionate about delivering efficient and effective solutions that optimize full system functionality.

My experience in server-side scripting languages as well as client-side libraries, such as Java, Python and React JS, as well as my knowledge of software development principles allows me to deliver high-quality work that meets the needs of any team or project.

With strong attention to details and a focus on testing and debugging, I am committed to ensuring that my work is of the highest quality.

As an effective communicator and collaborative team member, I am always ready to contribute my skills and knowledge to any project in need of a skilled developer.

EXPERIENCE

PERSONAL PROJECTS

JUNE, 2023

- FULLSTACK DEVELOPER:

Developed a highly secure web-based food delivery system utilizing a comprehensive tech stack including Python, Django, Html, Tailwind CSS and Vanilla JavaScript. The system allows users to seamlessly navigate the platform, log in securely, browse a diverse menu with categorized items, place orders, input precise delivery locations and conveniently make online payments through a secure payment gateway. Employing a multilayered security approach, I streamlined data processing, implemented robust data validation mechanisms and established error handling protocols to minimize errors.

APRIL, 2023

- BACKEND DEVELOPER:

Designed and implemented the backend for a medical appointment application using Python and Django, enabling users to schedule medical appointments ahead of time and manage medical records securely and efficiently. I optimized data performance and incorporated stringent data validation mechanisms ensuring highest level of data integrity and a flawless user experience throughout the system.
